

DH Virtual Lecture: Book Talk

Roopika Risam (Salem State University)

Hear a prominent scholar speak about postcolonial DH across three of her recent books:

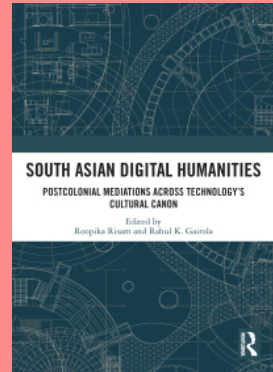

MONDAY, OCTOBER 4, 12-1 PM

New Digital Worlds traces the formation of postcolonial studies and digital humanities as fields, identifying how they can intervene in knowledge production in the digital age.

This timely collection of essays about the relationship between digital humanities and Black Atlantic studies offers critical insights into race, migration, media, and scholarly knowledge production.

South Asian Digital Humanities thus demonstrates that postcolonial digital humanities has great possibility for creating some of the most important social justice scholarship in South Asian studies of the past century.
