DR. NATHIAN RODRIGUEZ
(JOURNALISM & MEDIA STUDIES)
"THE MOBILE PHONE & DIGITAL IDENTITY"

The mobile phone is almost an extension of oneself in today's digital age. Individuals use mobile phones and their digital apps to stay connected, entertained, and to negotiate parts of their identity. The focus of this talk will combine three different studies Dr. Nate Rodriguez has been involved with. It will highlight findings that correlate the mobile phone with digital identities, specifically masculinity, queer identity, and collegiate experiences.

DR. BRIDGET GILMAN
(ART HISTORY)
"MINING THE IMAGE"

The plethora of digital tools available to the modern historian offers new ways to capture, process, and present visual information, and yet can also distance the audience from the primary experience of artistic interaction. This talk will consider the possibilities and potential limits of digital art history in developing new research methodologies and fostering interdisciplinary connections.
